About Stingray®

Thank you for your interest in STINGRAY®.

STINGRAY® was established in 1989 and is the original sun protection clothing company in Australia. We are specialists in UV protection swimwear and leisure wear and accessories for babies, children and adults. Our styles are designed to protect you and your family from the harsh UV rays, and we are committed to providing you with the best available sun protection fabrics (UPF50+) for swimwear and leisure wear. We all know that UV radiation is harmful to our skin and can cause various diseases, as well as skin cancer. Exposure to UVR can cause not only sunburn, but lasting skin damage. This may result in premature skin ageing, and skin cancer. UVR can also cause eye disorders such as cataracts.

So with all of this in mind, when you are outside enjoying your many activities, always remember to protect yourself from head to toe, and STINGRAY® has it all. Our chlorine resistant (and UPF50+) UV swimwear range caters for all ages and sizes.

Our range starts from Baby size to Adult size covering every activity from swimming to cycling, surfing to sailing or just lazing on the beach. Every garment is designed to help in giving you the best UV protection, such as one piece suits, long sleeves and high neck collars.

Our Woven range which is manufactured exclusively for STINGRAY® is as exciting as ever featuring the best selling Polo shirts. We also have styles suitable for boating, fishing, or just leisure. These garments are just so cool to wear, they are lightweight, water resistant and of course UV protective (UPF50+), and they do not need to be ironed. As a result of listening to the needs of our many customers, we are able to deliver great products at great prices, and to expand rapidly as a result. We are now exporting to, many countries around the world, across all continents, providing excellent service and commitment to our distributors and their clients.

Take the "Sting out of the Sun's Rays", and wear STINGRAY® this summer. You will always look and feel great when you know you and your family are getting the best possible UV protection. Many thanks again for your support and have a wonderful summer.

Kind Regards

Matthew Hockin - Director

STINGRAY products comply with the Australian standard AS/NZS 4399:1996

STINGRAY® products provide excellent UV protection and block > 97.5% of the Sun's UV rays. This UPF rating is for fabric and does not address the amount of protection which is afforded by the design of the article. The manipulations involved in garment manufacture such as stretching and sewing may lower the UPF of the material. Articles which have been designed to cover the maximum area of the body are recommended. The protection offered by STINGRAY® products may be lessened:

- at points where the fabric is in close contact with the skin such as across the shoulders;
- if the fabric is stretched;
- if the fabric is wet; and
- with time, due to the effects of normal wear.

What is Solar Ultraviolet Radiation (UVR)?

Of the many types of radiation emitted by the sun, mainly visible (light) and infrared (heat) reach the earth's surface. Ultraviolet radiation UVR is also present but we cannot see it or feel it. Ozone in the atmosphere absorbs much of the dangerous UVR before it reaches the ground but we can still receive enough to cause sunburn and more serious health problems.

Solar radiation at the earth's surface consists mainly of visible radiation (light) and infrared radiation (heat). Our eyes respond to visible light and infrared (IR) can be felt on the skin as heat. Ultraviolet radiation (UVR) is also present at the earth's surface but cannot be seen and cannot be felt by the skin. UVR is classified as UVA, UVB, and UVC.

UVB and UVC are potentially the most dangerous to human beings. Ozone and oxygen in the atmosphere absorb all the UVC and most of the UVB before it reaches the earth's surface. UVB is more damaging to the skin and eyes than UVA; however, both UVB and UVA are implicated as causes of skin cancers and some eye disorders.

How to reduce your solar UVR exposure

- Many forms of protection are available to reduce your exposure to solar UVR. The best protection is to avoid going outdoors during the middle of the day. When outdoors, wear sun protection clothing, a hat, sun-glasses and a sunscreen. The following strategies can reduce your UVR exposure:
- Avoid going outdoors when the sun is at its highest. UVR peaks between 10am and 2pm (11am to 3pm during daylight-saving time). This practice can dramatically reduce Your UVR exposure;
- Wear clothing designed to cover the arms and legs as well as the body;
- Wear a broad-brimmed or legionnaire style sun hat to shade the eyes, face, ears and back of the neck;
- Apply at least SPF 30+ sunscreen to all areas of your body not covered by clothing. Re-apply sunscreen every two hours, even on cloudy days. Re-apply sunscreen after swimming or perspiring as it can wear off;
- Wear sunglasses when outside. Choose a style of glasses that prevent UVR reaching the eyes. Wrap around styles can also block UVR entering the eyes from the sides;
- Choose shaded areas where you cannot directly see the open sky. Even if you are out of the direct sun, UVR can still reach you from the open sky. UVR can also reflect back from some surfaces increasing the amount of UVR exposure of the skin. Surfaces such as beach sand, white paint, light coloured concrete, snow, water and to a lesser extent soil can reflect UVR onto your skin;
- Sand reflects up to 25% of sunburning UV;
- Over 90% of UV can penetrate light cloud;
- Remember that if the temperature drops it does not mean that the UVR level has also decreased; and
- Protect young children from excessive sun exposure with shade, suitable sun protection swimwear, UV protective clothing, sun hats, sunglasses and sunscreens. They are unaware of the dangers. Apply sunscreen liberally and often to children following the directions on the container. Use pram covers and shades for babies .Model behaviour for children.
